LETTER OF INTENTION

[Place], [Date]

Re: Participation in the Living Lab of Project REASCENT

To whom it may concern,

[Name of Institution], legally represented by [Name and position of legal representative], with registered office at [address], hereby expresses its intention to participate in the Italian Living Lab to be developed under the project “Regenerative and resilient Alpine Soil health initiatives to meet Climate and ENvironmental risks (ReASCENT)”, submitted to the Horizon Europe call HORIZON-MISS-2026-05-SOIL-01-two-stage — Living labs to enhance soil health in Alpine and Atlantic biogeographical regions.

Through this letter, we confirm our interest in contributing to the project’s multi-actor approach by engaging directly in activities that connect research, farming practice, market needs and territorial realities. In particular, we are willing to participate in the Living Lab as a territorial stakeholder, contributing with our experience, in particular the one developed in the last years in the field of agroecology within the GREEN COMMUNITY VALSUGANA E TESINO and AGROECOLOGIA PER LA RETE projects, knowledge of local production systems and understanding of the economic, technical and market-related challenges faced by farmers and agri-food actors.

We consider that the REASCENT Living Lab can provide an important opportunity to demonstrate the benefits and trade-offs of biologically diversified agroecosystems, while addressing the practical and economic concerns that often limit their adoption. We also recognise the relevance of strengthening farmers’ and agri-food actors’ position in the value chain, improving market access for diversified products and contributing to more resilient, sustainable and competitive agricultural systems.

Our involvement is expected to contribute to ensuring that the project results are supported in the farming and agri-food contexts and connected to the local policy framework, reflecting the needs of practitioners, and generate practical knowledge that can be used by farmers, policy makers and other stakeholders.

This letter expresses our genuine interest in participating in the project activities and does not constitute a legally binding commitment or financial obligation. The final scope, responsibilities, calendar and conditions of participation shall be agreed upon following the approval of the project and in accordance with the applicable Horizon Europe rules, ethical principles and data protection requirements.

We remain available to further define our contribution and to collaborate with the project consortium in the preparation and, if approved, implementation of the Italian Living Lab lead by Fondazione Edmund Mach

Yours faithfully,
